I am a creative storyteller. It is my responsibility to be a good team leader and to inspire my team to bring their most creative ideas to the project. Together with my team and collaborators we bring inspiring and moving stories to life in beautiful images.

I have a lot of experience in post production which is an amazing asset for me as a director of photography.

I believe that the most important thing in filmmaking is people. Working on a project with the right people can determine the quality of the project. My goal is to work with creative souls from all over the world and to be part of something special.

Please visit my website to view some of my work and I hope you enjoy reading my resume.
